Gates to launch open-access publishing site

Health foundation joins push for greater transparency.

BY DECLAN BUTLER

One of the world's wealthiest charities, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation in Seattle, Washington, is set to launch its own open-access publishing venture later this year. The initiative, Gates Open Research, was announced on 23 March and will be modelled on a service begun last year by the London-based biomedical charity, the Wellcome Trust. Both efforts are intended to accelerate the publication of articles and data from research funded

1. Publications are discoverable and accessible online.
2. Publication will be on "Open Access" terms.
3. Foundation will pay necessary fees.
4. Publications will be accessible and open immediately.
5. Data underlying published research results will be accessible and open immediately.

Scam Alert!

02/07/2018 | General

We have been informed that our congress speakers and organizers have been approached by a company named Scientific Federation to invite them to the Immunology Congress-2018 in Amsterdam.

Please be aware that this is a scam and the 5th European Congress of Immunology (ECI 2018) does not have any relation to this company nor event. Note that all official emails related to the ECI 2018 will come from an email address ending in "@medacad.org".

Should any other email address contact you to invite you to an immunology congress kindly inform the conference organizer at eci2018@medacad.org as soon as possible.

Thank you for your cooperation and attention.
